

Ants are fussy feeders. Different ants like different foods – preferring either fats & oils, proteins or sugars. There's never been a product specifically designed to target each of these feeders. Until now.

Murray Pest Control is pleased to offer our new Ant Management Program, based on the use of the new MAXFORCE range of ant baits.

It's the first product specifically designed to target ants – & the first to offer different baits for different ant species according to the foods they prefer.

While no pest professional could ever promise to eliminate ants, our trials have proved these new MAXFORCE products to be extremely effective in dramatically reducing ant numbers.

We can confidently say this is the best ant treatment we have ever used.

To ensure maximum reduction in ant numbers, Murray's Ant Management Program involves 3 services, each 2 weeks apart. At the completion of the program, a 3 month warranty for the interior of the home applies, where we will retreat any inside reinfestation at no charge.

Please call Murray's for more information and a quotation for treatment.

Because in your home the only good ant...is a dead ant.

By the way, if you're considering implementing our professional ant program, please DO NOT disturb the ants by using domestic insect spray or products as this could reduce the effectiveness of our treatment.
